

Sarah Clark

Ms. Clark is the chief operating officer of Fraser River Pile and Dredge, Canada's largest marine contractor. Her previous role was president and chief executive officer of Partnerships British Columbia Inc., a provincial agency with a mandate of planning and implementing public private partnerships and other complex project procurements. Ms. Clark has also worked for Bombardier Transportation, where she was involved in transit projects, including Metro Vancouver's Millennium Line Extension. She has participated on procurement teams for some of B.C.'s largest infrastructure projects.

A professional engineer, Ms. Clark serves on the board of Covenant House and previously served a term with the Canadian Council for Public-Private Partnerships. Ms. Clark was awarded the National P3 Champion award by the Canadian Council of Public-Private Partnerships to recognize her contribution to this innovative means of infrastructure delivery.

She holds a Bachelor of Science Degree in Civil Engineering from Queen's University and is a member of the Association of Professional Engineers and Geoscientists of British Columbia.
